

21st century Bath

We need your help to ensure that the history of Bath & North East Somerset's ethnic minority communities is captured and preserved for future generations. Bath is a diverse city with students from all over the world studying here, and a growing Chinese and East Asian community – we want to collect and preserve these stories so that Bath's fascinating history is represented by all who have lived, worked, studied and visited here.

We are working on developing a research guide to support research into the history of Black, Asian & Minority Ethnic people and communities in Bath so that we can better understand this important aspect of our past. This understanding and knowledge can inform our present and future to ensure our history is representative and reflects our diverse society.
