		KELLWAY (Eileen Hannan).— On the 8th January, at “Allendale” private hospital, Linda Crescent, Hawthorn, to Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Kellway — a son. From the Canberra Times of Wed 21 Aug 1935 p2: It was announced yesterday by the Secretary to the Prime Minister's Department (Mr. J. H. Starling), that Mr. C. V. Kellway, of the Treasury, had been appointed to the post of senior clerk and accountant at the Commonwealth's New York office. Mr. Kellway, who has a wife and three children, will leave for New York about September 12. , From the Sydney Morning Herald of Mon 3 Sep 1945 p4: CANBERRA, Sunday.-The appointment of Mr. C. V. Kellway as Consul-General for Australia in New York was announced today by the Minister for External Affairs, Dr. Evatt. Dr. Evatt said this was the first consular appointment made by the Australian Government. It had been decided that the appointment of officers specifically charged with a wide range of consular duties was now desirable in cities where Australia had special interests. Mr. Kellway had had a long career as a member of the Public Service and brought to his new office a very considerable experience in the United States. Mr. Kellway was born in 1892 and has been a member of the Commonwealth Public Service since 1908. He is well known to Australians who have visited New York, where he was stationed in the Trade Commissioner's office from 1934 to 1939. 		One of the oldest of Bath residents has been laid to rest this week in the person of Captain Haskett-Smith, of Hyde, Weston, Park, who had reached the great age of 93. In years gone by the Captain was a well-known figure in Bath Society, and was regarded as one of the beaux of the city. His marriage was of a rather romantic nature, as when with his regiment the Cameronians, at Gibraltar, he fell in love with a handsome and charming Spanish lady who became his wife and only predeceased him about five years ago. There was a story that an uncle of the Highland captain, anxious to assure himself that his young relative was acting discreetly, in his rage visited the mainland to make enquiries and returned—the bridegroom of another member of the beautiful family. The deceased gentleman never embraced the religious faith of his wife, and died a Protestant, but with a request, which was acceded to, that his remains might rest by the side of Mrs. Heskett-Smith in the family vault at the Roman Catholic cemetery. (The report of the funeral service at All Saint's church, Weston and the burial at Perrymead cemetery is in the same edition of the paper on page 7.)
